➤ WHAT IS INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION?

You may need international protection if you cannot go back to your country because you fear persecution or face a real risk of serious harm. This means, for example, that your life or freedom would be in danger and the authorities of your country won't protect you from the danger you face.

It is your right to apply for international protection.

In Europe, international protection can take different forms: refugee status or subsidiary protection.

International protection is also called asylum.

➤ WHAT IS THE ASYLUM PROCEDURE?

During the asylum procedure, the authorities will assess if you need international protection and, if so, which type of protection is relevant to you.

In the procedure, you will have the opportunity to state all the reasons why you left your home and your country of origin. Inform the officers truthfully of all the reasons why you left your country.

Once you have asked for international protection, you are considered an applicant for international protection.

Any information you share with the authorities will stay confidential. This information will never be shared with those from whom you are seeking protection.

The asylum procedure includes the following steps.

Arrival in Europe

1 Making the application

2 Registering the application

3 Lodging the application

Determining the EU+ country responsible for the examination of the application

Possible transfer to another EU+ country

4 Personal interview

5 Notification of the decision

The current country

Another EU+ country

POSITIVE DECISION

Protection

Rejection

Possibility to appeal

NEGATIVE DECISION

➤ WHEN AND WHERE WILL THE REGISTRATION AND LODGING OF YOUR APPLICATION TAKE PLACE?

Your application for international protection will be registered with the International Protection Agency (IPA), on the date and at the time that will be communicated to you. The registration must take place at the latest within 10 days to 15 days of the making or the end of the screening.

Once your application has been registered, you will have to lodge it with the International Protection Agency on the date and at the time that will be communicated to you during the registration. You will receive a Personal Details Form with the date and time of your lodging appointment. The IPA is located at 794, Fafner House, Triq Nazzjonali, Hamrun.

The lodging of your application must take place at the latest within 21 days to 2 months of the date of the registration of your application.

It is very important that you lodge your application. If you fail to lodge your application, it will be considered withdrawn, unless the reason for this failure is beyond your control. This means that you will lose your status as an applicant, your right to support and services, and the right to stay in this country.

➤ WHAT WILL HAPPEN DURING THE REGISTRATION AND LODGING?

Registration and lodging include the following aspects.

Your fingerprints will be taken.

Your photograph will be taken.

You will be asked to present all your identity, travel and any other relevant documents.

You will be asked to provide your personal details. You will also be asked about any of your family members that are residing in this country or another EU+ country. Additional information will be collected about your travel route from your country of origin to Malta, as well as your claim for international protection.

You will be asked to provide your contact details (address, a telephone number and an email address).

You and your belongings may be searched. Your personal belongings remain your property and will be returned to you, except for any belongings that are considered dangerous.

You may have to undergo a medical check.

You will be asked to submit all the information and documents available to support your application. This includes information and documents regarding:

- your home country and every country you have lived in
- the reasons you left your country and why you do not want to return
- your background and that of your family
- details of your journey to and through Europe
- any previous applications for international protection.

The order of these steps can differ, but all applicants are treated in the same way. The collected data will be safely stored in national and European databases.

It is your obligation and in your best interests to tell the truth and cooperate with the authorities.

After registration, you will receive an official document stating that your application was made and registered. Once you have lodged your application, you will receive an official document stating that you are an applicant for international protection.

You must carry it with you at all times.

➤ WHAT IS THE PROCEDURE IF YOU HAVE ARRIVED WITH CHILDREN OR A DEPENDENT ADULT?

If you arrived with:

- your children under the age of 18, or
- children under the age of 18 for whom you are legally responsible

they need to apply for international protection too. The children need to go with you to the authorities.

If your children are 18 years of age or older, they have to lodge their own application.

If you are responsible for a person who is 18 years of age or older and has a disability that prevents them from making decisions, you may apply for international protection and lodge an application on their behalf.

That person needs to be present with you during the lodging of their application.

➤ WHICH COUNTRY WILL EXAMINE YOUR APPLICATION?

You are guaranteed that an EU+ country will examine your application for international protection. You cannot choose the country.

The authorities will follow a procedure to decide which EU+ country is responsible for your application for international protection. This is called the responsibility determination procedure.

To this end, you will need to tell the authorities the following things.

- If you have a family member in another EU+ country.
- If another EU+ country has issued you a visa or a residence document in the past. (A visa gives you a permission to visit a country. This can be a stamp in your passport. A residence document is a document allowing you to stay in the country.)
- If you have previously entered another EU+ country.
- If you have already applied for international protection in another EU+ country.
- If another EU+ country has issued you with an educational diploma or qualification.

If the authorities believe that another EU+ country may be responsible for examining your application, you will receive more detailed information on this procedure and your rights and obligations.

You can find more information in the brochure dedicated to the Asylum and Migration Management Regulation.

➤ HOW WILL YOUR APPLICATION BE EXAMINED?

EXAMINATION OF YOUR APPLICATION

The authorities will examine whether you need international protection.

You will be invited to a personal interview.

You will receive the invitation via phone call, SMS, email or in person. If applicable, the IPA might notify you through your legal adviser or a representative of the centre you are living in. The interview will take place in person or, in exceptional cases, remotely. The interview will be audio recorded.

The interview is the opportunity for you to present in detail the reasons you are asking for international protection and why you do not want to return to your home country. You must attend the personal interview and arrive on time. If you do not attend the personal interview without a serious and justified reason, your application will be considered withdrawn, and your case will no longer be examined. If you refuse to respond to questions during the interview without a serious reason, your application will also be considered withdrawn.

Each adult applicant will be interviewed separately.

Your children will be provided with the opportunity to have an interview.

After the personal interview, your application will be assessed. The authorities will decide whether you will receive international protection or not.

In exceptional situations, the personal interview may not take place. The authorities will inform you if this applies to you.

How much time will it take to examine your application?

The procedure will take up to 6 months from the day of the lodging. Sometimes, the examination can take longer but it should not take more than 21 months.

➤ HOW WILL YOU RECEIVE THE DECISION ON YOUR APPLICATION FOR INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION?

A written decision will be handed directly to you, or else emailed or sent by post to you or to your legal advisor, if you have one. You will be informed about the outcome of the decision in a language that you understand.

If the decision is negative, the reasons will be explained in the decision, and you will be issued a decision to return to your country.

POSSIBILITY TO APPEAL

If you do not agree with the decision, you can appeal it. This means that the International Protection Appeals Tribunal (IPAT) will review the decision. You can ask for a legal adviser free of charge to help you appeal.

You need to present your appeal within the specific period provided in the decision. You will receive more detailed information about this if you receive a negative decision.

If your application for international protection and the appeal are rejected, and you do not have the right to remain for other reasons, you will have to leave Malta by the date indicated. If you do not leave voluntarily, you may be forced to return.

➤ WHAT ARE YOUR RIGHTS?

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO STAY AND RECEIVE RECEPTION SUPPORT AND SERVICES

As an applicant for international protection, in principle you have the right to stay in the country that is responsible for the examination of your application until the examination is concluded.

You can find information about the reception support and services you will receive in a separate brochure.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO RECEIVE INTERPRETATION

If you do not speak English, an interpreter will help you to communicate with the authorities during the registration and the lodging of your application as well as during your personal interview. The interpreter is free of charge.

The interpreter is neutral, meaning they do not favour anyone. They respect confidentiality and will not share anything you say with anyone outside of the competent authorities.

The interpreter has no influence on the decision on your application.

Inform the authorities immediately if you do not understand the interpreter or you think that the interpreter is not neutral.

YOU CAN ASK FOR A MALE OR FEMALE INTERPRETER AND INTERVIEWER FOR YOUR PERSONAL INTERVIEW, IF THIS HELPS YOU TO FULLY EXPRESS YOURSELF

Depending on your reasons and if there is availability, your request will be met.

YOU CAN CONSULT A LEGAL ADVISER (LAWYER)

A legal adviser is a person providing personal legal assistance or representation to you in dealing with the authorities. A legal adviser is independent from the authorities and defends your interests. A legal adviser can assist you with your application for international protection, with the asylum procedure, with official communication and they can stay with you during the personal interview.

It is your right to consult a legal adviser at any stage of the asylum procedure at your own expense.

You can request a legal adviser free of charge during the appeal, unless you have the resources to cover the costs of your legal representation.

If you prefer a certain legal adviser, share their contact details with the authorities as soon as possible.

Share the details of your legal adviser with the authorities so that they can keep them informed about your application.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE INFORMED AND REQUEST FREE LEGAL COUNSELLING

You can ask for legal counselling, free of charge, during the asylum procedure. This includes legal counselling to assist you in lodging your application.

Legal counselling means that you can receive explanations on:

- your rights and obligations
- the different procedures
- legal issues.

You can request information and legal counselling at the Migrants Advice Unit within the Agency for the Welfare of Asylum Seekers (AWAS) via email at mau.awas@gov.mt.

YOU CAN COMMUNICATE WITH THE UNITED NATIONS REFUGEE AGENCY (UNHCR) OR OTHER ORGANISATIONS

You can contact and communicate with UNHCR or their partner organisations in any step of the asylum procedure.

UNHCR protects the interests and the rights of asylum seekers and refugees. UNHCR or their partner organisations also provide information and assistance to asylum seekers.

UNHCR contact details and information on the asylum procedure can be found on the UNHCR webpage <https://help.unhcr.org/>.

NGOs may also provide you with information and assistance free of charge.

You can also contact any other organisation providing legal advice or other counselling to applicants.

WHAT ARE YOUR OBLIGATIONS?

FOLLOW THE LAWS OF THIS COUNTRY

STAY IN THE COUNTRY WHERE YOU APPLIED FOR INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION

Do not attempt to go to another EU+ country. You are only allowed to travel to another EU+ country if you are given permission to do so by the authorities.

MAKE SURE THE AUTHORITIES CAN REACH YOU AND THAT YOU KEEP YOUR APPOINTMENTS

You must attend all appointments in person whenever you are requested to do so by the authorities. You must be there on time. If you are unable to attend an appointment for a serious reason, inform the authorities immediately and explain the reason.

COOPERATE FULLY WITH THE AUTHORITIES

When requested, you must do the following.

- Provide your personal details.

- Provide identity documents. If you do not have them, explain why.

- Have your fingerprints and photograph taken.

- Lodge your application at a designated date and place.
- Attend the personal interview and respond to questions during the interview.

- Agree to be searched and to have your items searched, if the Maltese authorities request to do so. A search will only occur where necessary and justified. The authority will explain the reasons for the search. The search will be carried out by a person of the same sex as you and will be done in a way that respects your dignity.

TELL THE TRUTH

What you say is very important for the credibility of your application. This is why you need to be honest and give full and correct information about your identity, family, country of origin, the reasons you have left your home country and why you do not want to return there.

You may not remember everything so you may not be able to answer all the questions. In this case, do not invent answers but explain that you do not remember.

PROVIDE CORRECT CONTACT DETAILS AND BE REACHABLE

The authorities must be able to reach you regarding your application for international protection. If your address, email or telephone number change, inform the authorities immediately.

❗ Remember, you must not leave Malta while your application is being examined.

If you are being accommodated in a centre, you should not move elsewhere without the permission of the authorities.

SUBMIT ALL INFORMATION AND DOCUMENTS THAT SUPPORT YOUR APPLICATION TO THE INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION AGENCY (IPA)

If you have identity documents, you must present them as soon as possible.

You must submit any other information and documents that may help the authorities to examine your application or to decide the country responsible for the examination of your application. These documents can be, for example, a passport, wedding certificate, family book, military ID card, evidence of employment, membership card of a political party, certificates, court and police reports, photographs and medical or psychological documentation.

You do not need to submit documents that only contain general information about your country. The asylum authorities are aware of the situation in your country.

You should submit all information and documents as soon as possible when lodging your application. If you don't have the documents immediately available, you must submit them as soon as you have them, during your personal interview or until the decision on your application is made, by email at protection@ipa.gov.mt, in person at the International Protection Agency or by post at 794, Fafner House, Triq Nazzjonali, Hamrun.

It is mandatory to present original documents, where possible. You must not destroy or dispose of any identity documents. You must not withhold any relevant documents. You must never submit a fake or forged document.

If possible, and to the extent that this does not create a risk, ask your friends or relatives to send your documents to you.

WHAT ARE THE CONSEQUENCES IF YOU DO NOT MEET YOUR OBLIGATIONS?

YOUR ASYLUM PROCEDURE WILL BE STOPPED

Your application will be considered withdrawn or rejected. This means that you may lose your status as an applicant for international protection and all the related rights.

This will happen if you refuse to:

- provide information when requested to do so
- have your fingerprints or photograph taken
- provide your address
- respond to questions during your personal interview.

It will also happen if you:

- do not lodge your application within the set time limit without a serious reason
- do not attend the personal interview without a serious reason
- do not report to the authorities when requested to do so
- do not remain in the place you are obliged to stay
- cannot be reached by the authorities
- leave the country.

You can also decide to withdraw your application at any time during the asylum procedure, for example, because you decided to return to your country. In this case, you will lose your status as an applicant for international protection.

SOME TYPES OF RECEPTION SUPPORT AND SERVICES MAY BE REDUCED OR CANCELLED

In some circumstances, the Maltese authorities may decide to reduce or cancel some type of support or some services. The Maltese authorities will inform you about such a decision in writing after they evaluate your situation.

You can find more information at your accommodation centre.

YOUR APPLICATION MAY BE NEGATIVELY AFFECTED

If you provide misleading or false information related to your identity or your application, or if you destroy or forge documents, this may have a negative impact on your application, for example as follows.

- Your application may be rejected, and you may not obtain international protection.

- Your application may be examined in the asylum border procedure. (If this happens, you'll receive specific information on the procedure).
- Your application may be accelerated. In this case, the time to examine your application will be reduced to three months. The accelerated procedure can also be applied for other specific reasons. The Maltese authorities will inform you and provide further explanations if the accelerated procedure applies to you.

International protection could also be taken away from you if the authorities find out later that you did not tell the truth during the asylum procedure.

➤ HOW WILL THE ANY SPECIAL NEEDS?

AUTHORITIES CONSIDER

You should inform the authorities as soon as possible if you need any special support. These needs can arise from a wide variety of situations such as pregnancy, illness or experiences of psychological, physical or sexual violence.

The authorities will assess your situation and may provide additional support to facilitate your participation in the asylum procedure. For example, they may assign specialised staff to your case or adjust the length of the asylum procedure.

➤ MEDICAL EXAMINATION

The authorities may ask you to undergo a medical examination concerning signs of past persecution or serious harm. The examination is free of charge and you will be asked to give your consent to it. You will be informed about the results of the examination, which will be taken into account in the assessment of your application. If no examination is requested by the authorities, you may request the examination at your own expense.

WHAT IF YOU WANT TO RETURN TO YOUR COUNTRY?

At any time during the asylum procedure, you can decide to return voluntarily to:

- your country or
- a country of transit or another third country, if you have the right to do so.

If you decide to return voluntarily, your asylum procedure will be stopped, and you will no longer have the right to stay in Malta.

If you want to return voluntarily, contact the Returns Unit within the Ministry for Home Affairs, Security, and Employment (MHSE) at:

returns@gov.mt

Telephone: +356 2568 9777; Mobile/Whatsapp: +356 9913 1777

MHSE, 29/16, Vincenti Buildings, Strait Street, Valletta, VLT1433, Malta.

You may receive counselling as well as assistance for your safe and legal return.

CONFIRMATION OF RECEIVING THE INFORMATION

An official will ask you to confirm that you received this information.

If you did not understand something or if you have additional questions, you can always ask.
